

AS RATED BY YOUR PEERS: FALL 2022 REFEREE REPORT

CSL 5 STAR RATINGS

RECOGNIZE AND REWARD

The 5 Star Referee Program aims to recognize those in the CSL referee community who were rated highly for on the field performance, coupled with a commitment to improving the game off the field.

After a successful first year implementing the program in the Fall of 2021, let's take a deeper look into what the 2022 data tells us. Also, we would like to thank all the referee's and teams who utilized our 5 star rating system in the CSL App.

CSL 5 Star Referee ratings highlight how teams rated the referee's performance after the game. Did they officiate the game fairly, did they show respect to opposing coaches and parents, and were they part of a positive game day experience?

The average rating a referee received after a game was a 4.37. This is slightly below the average rating teams received, which was 4.41.

AVERAGE RATING

Referee's are rated significantly higher by the team that wins a particular game.

Perhaps one of the most interesting statistics when reviewing the data is the difference between ratings given by the winning team vs. the losing team.

While there are three main criteria that we hope teams would consider when rating a referee, it is apparent that the outcome of the game is swaying whether teams feel the referee was good or bad.

On average, we found that referee's received a higher rating in girls games than boys.

Age Matters

Many factors are at play here, but referee's who officiated games in the youngest age groups received the highest ratings. The three youngest age groups received the highest rated refs, and there is a steady decline from youngest to oldest. (The 2015 rating reflects ratings only from boys teams as there was no girls 2015)

CSL would like to thank ALL of the referee's who took part in the Fall 2022 season. Without you games could not be played.
